

Fill Your Freezer Chicken Share 2025

Ten (10) Ready to Cook Chickens

- Fed certified organic feed
- Raised on pasture
- Humanely harvested with no transport stress

A share is 10 (ten) ready-for-your-freezer chickens, averaging at least 4 pounds (at least 40 pounds total). Historically, we have averaged around 4½ pounds each, or about $7/pound at this year's price. For pastured broilers, fed certified organic feed, gently harvested without transport stress that is a comparative bargain.

Our costs have risen dramatically the last two years so I am having to raise my price. I am offering a self-determined sliding scale this year: Starting $280 per share (10 chickens) for those who are diligently stretching their dollars but are really "stretched" to get this good food, and then appreciatively accepting a "tip" to cover some of my daily care for seven weeks if you are able and willing.

The chickens will be ready for harvest in early-June. It looks like these will be our only chickens this year – the next chick delivery date is too late since I plan to travel with my niece for a week in early October. Chicks are/were hard to come by this year.

I acknowledge that it is my responsibility to pick up our chickens promptly after being notified when they will be ready.
